SUNNY SIDE UP

Turn and face the sun with one of spring's top tortoiseshell shades.

Juicy Couture, $135.

Vera Wang, $300.

Dolce & Gabbana, $260.

Staying the Kors

Michael Kors shot his spring ad campaign in Malibu, the very place that inspired the collection. And, this year, the consummate stylemaker celebrates his 30th anniversary by opening four new locations in the Golden State (Roseville, Santa Anita, Valley Fair and Livermore Valley) and will venture into the realm of jewelry in the fall. The journey in classic, sporty-chic continues. michaelkors.com.

DWM Interiors Mod Louis settee, $4,350.

SAN FRANCISCO

So Retro

Sometimes what's in vogue is what's passé. With 85 of the country's top dealers, the Bay Area's Vintage Expo offers archival Halston, Dior, Bill Blass, and Azzedine Alaïa. Now in its third decade, the sale (which moves to Santa Monica in April) spans Belle Époque finery to the hip-hugging '70s. Mar. 19-20; Concourse Exhibition Center, 635 8th St., S.F., vintageexpo.com.

SAN FRANCISCO

New Age

Interior designer Maloos Anvarian spends half of her time in France, sourcing exquisite period furniture to repurpose with a modern flourish. Back at her Bay Area DWM Interiors studio, she'll then outfit a grand 18th-century hunting chair with Lucite arms, or a gilded Louis XVI settee with inlays of cool Plexiglas. Is it past contemporary, or contemporary past? Two Henry Adams St., Ste. 349, S.F., 415-864-3857; dwminteriors.com.
