“This room
is exotic and
FUNCTIONAL,
but with
fun written
all over it.”

—Tammy Connor, designer

Hanging out

Teak platforms suspended from heavy-gauge rope play up a nautical look and create sleeping quarters your guests will fight over. Typically reserved for the porch, hanging beds command attention when installed indoors. You'll need to attach the ropes to sturdy beams or studs, so be sure you have the support before you buy the materials.
