

Bring to Light

Vaughan (212-319-7070; www.vaughandesigns.com) created a unique ceiling mount, $1,710, in an artichoke shape. The intricate light patterns give the illusion that the fixture is made of origami paper, when, in fact, it is crafted of metal.

Turned Tables

Designed in the 1950s by William Haines for a Los Angeles residence, two geometric bedside tables, $19,000 for the pair, in walnut veneer and lacquered wood, are at the Los Angeles showroom Dragonette (310-855-9091; www.dragonetteitld.com).

Cane and Able

Poul Kjaerholm's iconic PK 24 lounge chair, $9,500, first produced by Fritz Hansen in 1965, is made of woven cane on a stainless-steel frame. ReGeneration (212-741-2102; www.regenerationfurniture.com) in Manhattan has the seat.

On a Scroll

Joan Mirviss shows traditional Japanese art and antiques and contemporary Japanese ceramics in her new Manhattan gallery. Courtesan Smoking a Tobacco Pipe on a Veranda Overlooking Shinagawa River, $38,000, was painted on silk circa 1795 by Toyokuni, of the prominent Utagawa school.
