

COLOR NEWS

Make It Personal

If you believe there's no such thing as too matchy-matchy, you're in luck. Brands are now letting you customize products any way you like, so you can replicate the exact hue of that Prussian blue Volvo you drove in college or the cherry blossoms outside your kitchen window. Perfectionists, rejoice.

1. MARIBEL LANTERN

Plug any paint hue into their online tool, and they'll match it. From $1,850. coleenandcompany.com

2. CLOTH NAPKINS

Recolor Guildery's multitudes of print-on-demand options. From $58 for a set of six. guildery.com

3. PORTHOLE MIRROR

Choose from 14 stock tones, or ask them to match your paint swatch. By Dunes and Duchess. 36" Dia. From $1,980. shopcandelabra.com

4. MOROCCO WALLPAPER

Pick a color, any color—or six. $30 per yard. detroitwallpaper.com

5. LOUIS XVI SIDE CHAIR

One of the first companies to offer retail-level customization with endless fabrics and multiple finishes is bringing it to the next level with piping—a classic decorator's touch. $439 as shown. ballarddesigns.com

Reports

THE LEGEND RETURNS

One of Dorothy Draper's original wallpaper designs, Shatter (above), is finally seeing the light of day, thanks to a new collaboration between Nashville designer Jonathan Savage and Carleton V. The pattern is all Draper, but Savage picked the palette: "I drew my inspiration from nature." Naturally. carletonvlttd.com. Available through a designer.

NEW FARROW & BALL COLORS

Nine hues are joining the fold at the plucky British paint and wallpaper company. Among them: Vardo, inspired by 19th-century teal Romany wagons, and Cromarty, the color of cool mist rising off a Scottish firth. $97 per gallon. farrow-ball.com

CRATE & BARREL PAINT

Paint? Yes, paint. The brand that sells everything from sofas to stylish colanders is now offering 35 interior hues of its own, made VOC-free by Portland, Oregon's Colorhouse. Shown in Yellow .03. $47 per gallon. crateandbarrel.com