

ATLANTA HOMES<sup>TM</sup> LIFESTYLES

SUMMER
STYLE
SPECIAL

Relax!

Dreamy BATHS

Cool Vacation HOMES

Fresh Design IDEAS

JULY 2009
ATLANTAHOMESMAG.COM

$4.95US

0 0928103342 4

WRITTEN BY KATE ABNEY

PHOTOGRAPHED BY STEVE POMBERG

PRODUCED BY
RACHEL CARDINA

Crowning JEWEL

A discriminating homeowner is given the bath of her dreams at the hands of designer Amy Morris, who reflected her sophisticated style in the form of an elegant and efficient sanctuary

THE GOAL IN THIS ELEGANT BATHROOM was straightforward: The man of the house wanted to give his wife the one of her dreams. "She is known for her very sophisticated style," notes designer Amy Morris. "She dresses very cleanly and simply, adorned in beautiful jewels, handbags and shoes."

Ousting the abundance of dark green marble and a choppy layout, Morris and her team first switched up the floorplan, taking their inspiration from the owner's immaculate form of dress and creating a cleaner look. "From the beginning, I knew I wanted to find a mirror and chandelier; I'm just lucky that I found the perfect ones. We were out looking for lighting at Foxglove Antiques, and we saw it," notes Morris of the 19th-century French mirror. "I said, 'That's it. That's the one.'" Meanwhile, the show-stopping amethyst-embellished French chandelier and crystal sconces were discovered at Edgar-Reeves. In this well-lit bathroom, they sparkle like fine jewelry.

Gleaming nickel "Etoile" fixtures and hardware from Waterworks were must-haves from the beginning, as was the six-foot "Empire" tub, a stunning focal point in front of the towering palace mirror. A large, glass-encased shower—the husband's sole request—features groutless slabs of Calcutta Borghini marble and a rain showerhead for the ultimate in luxury. But all of the glitz and glam is softened by silk window treatments and wood-paneled walls painted a unique gray-green, reflecting the homeowners' love for the verdant hue. Beneath it all, wood floors, extended from the master living area, provide an undeniable warmth and elegance that will serve the couple well for years to come.

In keeping with the bath's high style, Morris also designed a custom vanity, streamlined dressing table and an armoire in her client's closet. With drawers deep enough to house bottles and other necessities without having them topple over, the dressing table makes getting ready that much easier while the armoire keeps the owner's collections of shoes and handbags organized without a hitch.

RESOURCES TILE AND MARBLE Walker Zanger PLUMBING FIXTURES Waterworks MARBLE FABRICATION James L. Stack Inc. CUSTOM CABINETRY John Gorrell Woodworking Inc. CHANDELIER AND SCONCES Edgar-Reeves Lighting & Antiques FRENCH MIRROR Foxglove Antiques & Galleries ACCESSORIES Waterworks & Restoration Hardware WINDOW TREATMENT FABRIC Zimmer & Rhode through Ainsworth-Noah & Associates WINDOW TREATMENT FABRICATION Judy Pratt

BATH
CONTEST
2009
WINNER

STYLE

(baths)

WRITTEN BY KATE ABNEY

PHOTOGRAPHED BY STEVE POMBERG

PRODUCED BY RACHEL CARDINA

BATH
CONTEST
2009
WINNER

DESIGN DETAILS

INTERIOR DESIGN
AMY MORRIS
AMY D. MORRIS
INTERIORS
ATLANTA 30319
(404) 389-0628
AMYDMORRIS.COM

ARCHITECTURE
BRAD HEPNER
BRADLEY E. HEPPNER
ARCHITECTURE, LLC
(404) 734-6687
BRADLEYHEPNER.COM

CONTRACTOR
LINDSAY MATEER AND ASHLEY MCQUEEN
M2 CONSTRUCTION
(770) 455-9400
(404) 276-2927