

The Goal:

Transform an outdated Back Bay master bathroom into a space that challenges the status quo.

The Challenge:

To reconfigure the space to be open, functional, and light, with an emphasis placed on the fine points of the room. Once the space was gutted, we repositioned and enlarged the shower, added storage, radiant heat, and a larger vanity. We switched out the entrance door for a pocket door and set the tone of the room with a sculptural soaking tub placed against a custom paneled wall. Dramatic walnut accents to counter the soft white millwork and a custom mosaic floor of Thassos and Calacatta marble finish the look. Simple. Modern. Classic.

The End Result:

The project was an exercise in restraint and control that resulted in a striking yet understated, architecturally rich private space.
