Grand Foyer by L. Jonathan Savage

Original double doors with elliptical beveled glass insets open to the grand foyer designed by L. Jonathan Savage. Ornate dentil trim details were restored, and Savage enhanced the architecture by adding a delicate tracery feature on the 12-foot-high ceilings.

The face of the goddess Minerva made with flattened bottle caps by artist Molly Right hangs at the far end of the hall, where it can be enjoyed from a distance and close up.
