HILARY LITTLEJOHN SCURTIS, INTERIOR DESIGNER AND STYLE-SAVVY COCONUT GROVE LOCAL, RUMINATES ON SKY-HIGH LANDMARKS WITH PANORAMIC VIEWS, INDULGENT SPA TREATMENTS THAT LEAVE LITTLE LEFT TO WANT AND TIMELESS FASHION STAPLES.

VISTA PERFECTION
This may sound strange but once you see it you will completely understand: One of my favorite Miami landmarks is the Herzog & de Meuron parking garage found at 1111 Lincoln Road. It is an architectural marvel fashioned with lush landscaping and a dynamite rooftop restaurant that has the whole city buzzing: Juvia. Enjoy a delicious cocktail and take in the gorgeous views of Miami Beach. juviamiami.com

DUAL ROLES
Fashion and interior design naturally relate and play off one another in meaningful ways. I dress like I create: clean lines, attention to detail and flattering, timeless color schemes. I tend to gravitate towards brands like Kelly Wearstler, Herve Leger, Catherine Malandrino and The Row (shown here). I prefer quality design that holds a true sense of workmanship coupled with durable materials. therow.com

LIKELY SOURCE
When I want to escape the chaos of Miami without actually leaving the city, I head to the Soho Beach House—specifically the Cowshed Spa. There’s always some kind of happening or event and it’s a great place to meet other like-minded artists. I often indulge in a massage and a pedicure, but even if you choose to just lounge about soaking up the scenery and people watching, you’ll have a dream of a day. Enjoy! sohobeachhouse.com

CLASSY PERSUASION
Monica James is the Miami spot for amazing classic design, carrying luxury essentials like this gorgeous upholstered piece by George Smith, as well as sumptuous John Stefanidis fabrics, Christopher Spitzmiller’s spectacular lamps and other unique finds and accessories. I always turn to Cris Coregedo, she is particularly insightful regarding fabric pattern palettes—her taste is impeccable. monicajames.com
